TELEGRAPHIC.

REGINA, December 13.

Clinkskill moved an amendment seconded by Bett to Campbell's motion seconded by Insinger appointing Haultain, Tweed and Mitchell an executive committee, to the effect that the committee should be chosen from both parties in the house as means of obliterating party lines drawn each session. A long but quiet debate followed Cayley and others claiming representation on the committee as a party. Haultain and others refused to consider the question from a party stand point. Prince as representative of the Catholics denied any arrangement existed between himself and the rest of Cayley's party on school question, but felt in honor bound to stand by those who stood by him on that question. The motion was carried and amendment defeated. Yeas—Knowling, Dill, Insinger, Page, Mitchell, Haultain, Tweed, Neff, Oliver, Wilkins, Lineham, Campbell, Sutherland, Magrath, fourteen. Nays—Bets, McKay, Myers, Brett, Mowat, Boucher, Prince, Cayley, Davidson, Jelly, Clinkskill—eleven.

It is expected a committee will be chosen as advisory council by the Governor, and matters will proceed without further hitch.

NORTHWEST ASSEMBLY.

REGINA, December 8th, 1892.

Jelly presented a petition from James Fenton of Moose Jaw for compensation for horses destroyed on account of glanders.

Notices were given of the introduction of the following bills: Oliver, respecting elections; Wilkins, respecting bills; Davidson, to amend municipal ordinance, and bill respecting holding cemeteries in trust; Haultain respecting assessment of railways, to amend certain ordinances and respecting tree planting; Page amending ordinance respecting births, deaths and marriages.

Cayley moved a resolution of condolence to the remaining relatives of the late Joel Reaman, member of the executive. Haultain seconded.

Cayley moved, seconded by Haultain, that Tweed, McKay, Neff, Campbell and the mover and second be a committee to strike standing committees.

Cayley moved, seconded by McKay, that Neff, Oliver, Mowat and the mover and second be a committee to draft a reply to the speech from the throne.

Cayley moved the second reading of the marriage ordinance. It had been introduced last session, but owing to certain accidents did not arrive at its destination. Carried without division.

Mowat moved the second reading of his school bill.

Prince asked for leave to amend in committee, to which Mowat consented, and the second reading was passed without a division.

In committee on the school bill the kindergarten age was raised from three to four, and a number of sections were passed without any or with trifling amendments. Apparently no serious opposition will be made to the passage of the bill, nor is there likely to be any serious changes in its provisions.

Nothing has yet transpired regarding a new executive, but the Standard of to-night says the Haultain executive will likely return to office intact. The desire for a short session is expressed on all sides.

EXTRACTS IN RELATION TO THE ORDINANCES OF 1892-93.

The following are the most important items in the documents received by the Lieutenant-Governor from the department of state in relation to the ordinances of 1891:

"An ordinance respecting the executive government of the Territories."

The subject of which this ordinance treats, ("The Executive Government of the Territories Act," is regulated by "The North-West Territories Act," of the parliament of Canada and the acts in amendment thereof, and in the view of the undersigned, the parliament of Canada is paramount in authority as to all matters respecting that subject, and is indeed the only authority which can regulate and define the mode of government which is to exist in the Territories.

It follows from this that an Ordinance which goes beyond the mere regulation of detail and which is not entirely in subordination to the acts of Parliament, or which limits or extends the power of the Lieutenant-Governor as established by those acts is, so far, ultra vires of the legislature of the Territories.

By chapter 22 of 1891, section 6, sub-section 12, the Legislative Assembly is authorized to make ordinances relating to, (among other things),

"The expenditure of Territorial funds and such portion of any moneys appropriated by Parliament for the Territories as the Lieutenant-Governor is authorized to expend by, and with the advice of the Legislative Assembly or of any committee thereof."

There is reason for believing that it was intended, in passing this latter enactment, (Chapter 22 of 1891), to repeal section 13 of chapter 19 of 1888, and to leave matters of expenditure to be regulated by the assembly, or by a committee thereof, under the section just quoted.

In any case, the functions of the advisory council under the act of 1888, or the Committee under the act of 1891, are limited to matters of finance and expenditure.

The ordinance under review, however, contains the much more extensive provisions that "There shall be a committee to aid and advise in the government of the Territories so far as the same is vested in the Lieutenant-Governor and the Legislative Assembly."

This committee, according to the ordinance, is to consist of four persons, at least, chosen by the Lieutenant-Governor from the members of the Legislative Assembly.

They are to advise him on all matters connected with his duties of office, and not merely on matters of finance and expenditure.

If given any wider effect, it would conflict with the provisions of "The North-West Territories Act" and the amendments above cited as it would imply that the Lieutenant-Governor is to administer the government as to all matters, according to the Executive committee according to the ordinance.

It has not been considered necessary to advise your Excellency to disallow the ordinance, although, in the view of the undersigned, it requires to be amended in order that confusion and misinterpretation be avoided.

GENERAL NEWS.

During the last twelve months Canada exported 11,000 horses—to the United States, 9,620; to Britain 1,870; to West Indies 252, valued at $1,000,000, $214,800, and $28,000 respectively.

The funeral of the late John Macdonald took place on the 8th of December, from the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. C. R. Stewart, Athole avenue, and was attended by a large number of friends of the deceased.

It has been learned that Mr. Foster, American secretary of state, has instructed the American legation, London, to intervene on behalf of Mrs. Maybrick with Lord Roseberry, Secretary of state for foreign affairs. The home office refuses to give out any information regarding Mrs. Maybrick.

Baroness de Rouges has again visited her daughter, Mrs. Maybrick, at Woking prison. The baroness reports the condition of Mrs. Maybrick worse and that she is unable to retain food and is prostrated with spasms of the heart. The Baroness has no hope that her daughter will survive.

The Toronto grain exchange has been notified that the Canadian Pacific Railway company have available storage space in their Montreal elevators at present for 750,000 bushels. The announcement was made for the reason that a number of shippers have been asking whether or not all the storage in Montreal elevators had been taken.

There is probably not a citizen but who will hope that Sir Donald's buffalo will be returned to the country and not allowed to fall into the hands of Americans as did the late Col. Bedson's fine herd. Sir Donald's herd comprises the last animals of the species now in the country, and they are too precious to be lost to the country, both commercially and as objects of curiosity.

The Halifax Herald, Conservative, in an article on the new government says it is good for defensive purposes and an effective combination for holding onto office. Angers and Wood, it says, are the ablest among the new men. Wallace is pronounced to be "not a very able man," who is taken into the cabinet because he is an Orangeman. Curran is a nice fellow, but "is not known as an able lawyer." Carling is no good. Costigan is a weak man, and Caron a source of weakness to the government. All three, it says, should have been dropped.

Winnipeg will furnish a very interesting portion of the Dominion government's natural history exhibit at the World's Fair. Dan McDonald's large collection of wild animals, including ten elk and moose, and six bears, have been purchased by an agent of the government, and will be shipped to Chicago in the last week of this month. This collection will be supplemented by Sir Donald A. Smith's herd of buffalo now at Silver Heights, which has also been secured for the government, and will be shipped to Chicago with other animals.

A well-known dealer in barley, who has just returned to Montreal from the West, states that he was surprised to find that American buyers had recently made purchases in Ontario, which led him to believe that they were operating with the expectation of getting a rebate of duty or part thereof, later on, as prices on the other side of the line would not warrant them giving the rates they paid unless some such understanding had been made. Still, barley is offered on that market at as low prices as ever, and fair to good malting grades can be bought at 47c to 52c, while choice is held at 58c to 60c. Feed barley ranges all the way from 39c to 44c as to quality.

GENERAL NEWS.

The deaths from cholera in Hamburg number over 11,000.

Mr. McDonald has been a long time in collecting his managerie, and has expended a very large amount of money in maintaining it, and his consent to the sale was given with considerable reluctance. Two of the bears formerly owned by Mr. Russel, have been objects of interest to Winnipeggers for the past seven years, and others have been on view for five years.

The first shipments of Canadian poultry this season are on their way to the English markets, via Portland, consisting principally of turkeys and chickens, which will no doubt meet a good demand, as Canadian turkeys are now looked for on the Liverpool, Manchester and London markets. Some shipments are also gone forward from Western Canada, via Boston and New York. It is advisable to have the poultry landed on the other side, in time for the Christmas markets, as the best prices of the year are then realized.

It is said that the Germans are using a new style of horseshoe. Instead of the horseshoe being simply a curved piece of iron, part of the shoe is of rope. The shoe is made of malleable iron, and on the bottom is a deep groove, running from end to end. In this groove tightly fits the new feature of the shoe—a piece of tarred rope. The rope is about three-quarters of an inch thick. The strands are firmly twisted, and the application of tar makes the bit of hawser tough and durable, yet soft enough to afford the horse a relief unknown with the ordinary shoe. The shoe is fastened to the hoof by four nails driven through the rope on each side. The tar rope, resting on the pavement, gives the horse a firm grip on the ground, and as it makes the shoe much tighter and infinitely more comfortable than the solid iron, its advantages are readily apparent. The new invention increases the horse's pulling power, and saves the hoofs a deal of hard wear which cannot but result from the iron shoe pounding the rough pavements.

A very amusing although annoying incident occurred recently in an egg transaction between a Montreal shipper and a Liverpool dealer, the latter ordering 200 cases of a specified quality at a certain price. The order was executed, and the shipment went forward by a certain steamer from Montreal, which, however, did not sail as early as the Liverpool buyer calculated on. About a week or so after the eggs had left port, the shipper at Montreal received a cable message from the buyer, notifying him that he had to refuse his draft on account of the eggs arriving in bad condition, although at the time the vessel with the eggs on board had not arrived in Liverpool; but what proved to be an actual fact was that prices in Liverpool had dropped after the sale was made on this side, and the buyer, believing the ship had arrived in Liverpool, cabled as above. The shipper at Montreal, however, at once cabled to another party in Liverpool, transferring the 200 cases to him, and he at once lifted the draft. The Liverpool dealer, however, who made the purchase, was badly caught in his attempt to wriggle out of a fair and square bargain.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR'S SPEECH.

GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY—

In opening the Third Session of the present Legislature, I have to congratulate you upon the abundant harvest that has this year been vouchsafed to the Territories.

The quality of our grain has more than realized the most sanguine expectations and the standard of wheat grown in the Territories is now in a remarkable manner attracting the attention of the markets of the world.

The stock raising industry, in the West and elsewhere is, I am pleased to notice, meeting with a no less degree of prosperity.

Since the prorogation of the second session of the present Legislature, the construction of a railway from Calgary to Mcleod has been completed; a line of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has reached the coal fields in the Souris district, where the new town of Estevan, the destined centre of a great mining population, has so rapidly sprung into existence; work has also been commenced and is being pushed forward with activity upon the line entering the Territories at the south-east, which will join the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway and thus open up a highly important trans-continental route between the Mississippi valley and the coast of the Pacific.

The importance of these new lines of railway, in developing the country and placing the settlers in close proximity to available markets can hardly be overestimated.

I notice, with much satisfaction, the establishment of a Dairymen's Association for the Territories, which took place at Regina some months ago. This association is composed of men from all parts of the Territories, and its object is to stimulate an industry, whose development must necessarily prove of great benefit to our farmers. The association naturally expects that its efforts will meet with encouragement at the hands of the Assembly.

I will cause the public accounts to be laid before you without delay.

GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY:

It will be my duty to communicate to you forthwith certain orders of the Honorable the Privy Council of Canada, and other documents, which I have received from the Department of State, in reference to the ordinances of 1891-1892, amongst which will especially be found a report made by the Honorable Minister of Justice to His Excellency the Governor-General in Council upon Ordinance No. 1 of 1891-1892, intituled "An Ordinance respecting the Executive Government of the Territories."

Your attention is invited to the early consideration of this report of the Minister and to the necessity for such legislation as you may adopt, in reference to its important subject matter, being kept strictly within the letter and spirit of the Dominion Statutes.

GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY:

I now leave you to the discharge of your responsible duties, as members of the Legislature and representatives of the varied interests of the people of these vast Territories.

May your deliberations be conducted with that spirit of moderation, wisdom and concord, so essential to the interests of our common country.

NORTHWEST ASSEMBLY.

REGINA, December 9th, 1892.

Several petitions for compensation for loss of horses by glanders were presented. Also petition from Calgary for amendments to license ordinance. The bills of which notice was given yesterday were introduced to-day. Cayley moved for a Saturday session. The marriage and school bills were considered in committee of the whole.

An amendment of the school ordinance was agreed to providing that school districts might be proclaimed at any time but could only draw government aid from the beginning of the term following the proclamation. At present they can only be proclaimed in June or December.

The following standing committees were struck:

Civil justice—Haultain, Cayley, Prince.
Standing orders and library, to assist Mr. Speaker—Cayley, Haultain, Myers, Knowling, Insinger.

Agriculture—Jelly, Boucher, Sutherland, Page, Insinger, Myers, Campbell, Knowling Dill.

Public accounts and Printing—Clinkskill, Neff, Betts, Magrath, Tweed, Brett, Oliver, Davidson, Campbell.

Immigration—Lineham, Mitchell, Wilkins, McKay, Mowat, Magrath, Knowling, Oliver, Prince.

REGINA, December 10th, 1892.

The address in reply to the governor's speech was passed to-day. It simply echoed the speech, which said nothing. Dill introduced a bill respecting public property, and Mowat a bill to regulate the practice of dentistry. The school bill was considered in committee, and on Haultain's suggestion a private meeting was held to consider the question of an executive. The result will be announced on Monday.

PIONEER'S DEATH.

This district has lost one of its most respected and able farmers by the death of Mr. David Craig, who died on the 13th inst., aged 57. Mr. Craig came from Meaford, Ont., in 1883, took up a homestead at the Sturgeon river, and at his death owned one of the finest farms in the country. His highest ambition was to make his home an ideal one; yet took great pride in furthering the advantages of both social and religious fields in the Sturgeon settlement.

The funeral took place on Tuesday at the Edmonton cemetery. It was attended by a large number of citizens as well as farmers from the various settlements. The Sturgeon settlement abandoned all work that day, out of respect to the deceased. He leaves two sons and three daughters and a very large circle of friends to mourn his loss.
